

From Thursday 27 February, the link between Peregrine Foresight and automatic registration for University travel insurance will go live.

It is very important to note that travel insurance is 'subject to approval of this risk assessment' and will therefore only be valid once the risk assessment has been approved by one of the Departmental Approvers (and in the case of Extreme risk trips reviewed by SARAC) and the status is showing as Approved within Foresight.

This change applies for the following Trip Types:

- STAFF – Conference / Desk Work / Meeting / Seminar / Workshop
- STUDENT - Conference / Desk Work / Meeting / Seminar / Workshop
- STAFF – Fieldwork
- STUDENT – Fieldwork

This is how it will work:

The Insurance question will be changed to a Yes/No question which asks: Following approval of this risk assessment, you will be automatically covered by the University's travel insurance policy for this trip, with some exceptions. Do any of the following apply?

- I am over 80 years of age.
- I am travelling against medical advice.
- I am travelling to a sanctioned country: Iran, Syria, Cuba, North Korea, North Sudan, Crimea, Russia, or Venezuela.
- I am travelling to a country where the Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office (FCDO) advises against all travel.
- I will be away on this trip for more than 18 months.

If the traveller answers Yes, they will be asked to contact insurance@admin.cam.ac.uk to make additional arrangements. If they answer No, they will be taken to a page which displays Evidence of Travel Insurance and all the details of the Allianz policy. There will also be an option to add in names of any family members accompanying the traveller.

Travellers selecting any of these four trip types will no longer need to complete a separate registration for travel insurance via the TravelCert portal.

New Trip Types for Laboratory visits, Group travel, and UG Year Abroad will also include the link to University travel insurance when they go live later this term.
